I need a super fast hard drive for the game I plan to get a super fast hard drive very soon. My budget for hard drive is about US$150. I'm not mine to get less capacity. The best sound chat app for my MMORPG game is a small time game that is getting into MMORPG with my nephews. I hate chat features in games since it takes away from the game to type in messages. What is the best customer to use this? I have seen/heard from the speaking team, Ventrillo, and X-Fire (which come along with most games). Have anyone seen a good review or et has done a review. I want a client that allows connections to free servers or one that I can host myself. Also the client/server requires a friendly processor and friendly bandwidth. Any information would be greatly appreciated. Buy a new monitor: LCD or CRT for the game two days ago my beautiful Viewsonic P225fb 22 inch CRT died. Three years ago, this $675 monitor was available to play high CRT. It gave crazy top refresh rates: from 2048x1536 at 79 Hz down to 1024x768 at 151 Hz. I played fanatics and in FPS games like Battlefield 2, this monitor was incredible. Here's the problem—Viewsonic no longer sells this monitor. Instead they sell viewsonic G225FB CRT for about $440 (not shipping counts). The G225FB has the same incredible refresh rate as my old monitor. Should I buy CRT G225FB Viewsonic or buy a new LCD? Which is best for a hardcore game that is a fast FPS game like Battlefield 2? I prefer using 1024x768 to play because any higher resolution makes text too small to read in dropping menus, gauges, etc. Also I like the high frame rate in that clarity for playing FPS, Flying Sims, etc. As a hardcore game, I don't want any visual artifacts, silhouettes, slowing down framerate, or mouse response problems. I have a lot of games that don't support bizarre screen resolutions like 1280x1024 or look weird on the screen other than aspect ratio of 4:3. From my research these last two days, it seems that high-definition LCD resolutions are native or too high for the game or the odd 1280x1024 resolution, which pushes the images on the screen. All the new LCD looks wide, but many games don't support this. Is there LCD that support battlefield 2, Trainz 2004, Lock-In, IL-2, Brothers in Arms, and Silent Hunter 3 without any visual compromise or speed? Are there other CRTs still being manufactured that same quality, clarity, and refresh rate as the G225FB displays but cheaper? Is it time to switch to LCD for the game or wait until the technology is complete? I don't care how stylish the monitor looks on my desk or how much space it will save. The only thing I care about is performance and a very high-quality image on the screen. Also, please consider My system is High-end: AMD X2 4400 processor. 2gb RAM, two NVIDIA 7800GTX cards running SLI. Any great advice would I have to play a rig now or wait? I'm looking to spend about $1000 on a new game rig. My only problem is timing. Vista is coming out soon and with its DirectX 10 and with its DirectX 10 GPUs and with it DirectX 10 games. If I upgrade now, I end up with the Direct 9 card. The idea of my system becoming obsolete doesn't work well with me in six months. I know I can't wait for new technology or I'll wait forever, but it looks pretty big right now, I'm running WinXPSP2, AMD 2400+, 1 GB of RAM, and an ATI 9500 on 266 FSB devices. hes healing . It's served me well in the last 4 years so I can't complain too much. I just want to play a better rig so I can perform better and turn up the eye candy. Plus, it would be nice to have another desktop computer. I really want this new build to take me at least two years. What am I supposed to do? I hope this all makes sense . Each and all help is greatly appreciated. The game and Dolby 5.1 Sound Help! just built a new big rig. ASUS A8N32-Sli Deluxe comes with creative X-Fi Platinum. Wow I have an optical cable going from the front I/O panel to the optical in my Yamaha HTR-5830. I have a 5.1 system and all connections are good. I wondered what settings I needed to tweak in order to get the best sound for games like Counter Strike, Halo, Rise of the Age of Nations of Empires etc. Yamaha I am still showing only 2 active speakers as opposed to Full 5.1. Are these games Dolby or not and how can I understand? This is for this week, I see you in theforums. hello there... I want to say before I start that I know it will take a very long time and tons of work to do. i tried it . but... I wondered if anyone could tell me exactly how to make a real 3d video game. And the tissues... And the sound... and all that crepe . But, for me, .exe big part because Taz is basically the hardest (sh) part. I have done a bit of modeling and I can do some texture although, it's not that great. I find that going on your own to say get a program it's like a gamemaker but... I tried that and it didn't really ask me . i mean... I like playing to 100% mine. i want to code it from the beginning . I know it's very hard, but I'm willing to put time into it. I have almost every night of the week, and have weekends to work on it for 5-12 hours, so I have time. I just need to know how to exe and use other game files with it. I know I ask a lot of things... But I really want 2 to do it. If I don't, it drives me crazy, and if I could... I want it to be a ps2 game. Please don't answer if you can't/aren't going to help me because... Well... I just want to play me. So please help me!!!!!!! Thank you in advance. Please feel free to ask any questions about what I want. Thanks!
